Please read carefully: As part of the adoption process, our organization does follow-ups on our placements. We will call and, if we deem necessary, do a home visit. We reserve the right to void the adoption and pick up the dog. People adopting from 4DogSakes must understand that the organization has no background information on the animal's previous environment, behavioral problems (if any), and medical history. We can provide a current behavioral evaluation and medical history only. Some diseases have long incubation periods, and a negative test is not a guarantee that the animal does not have a certain disease. Introduction of a new animal into a home with existing animals carries a certain risk that must be assumed solely by the adopting party. 4DogSakes Rescue cannot be held liable for damages that may result from such an introduction. We are an organization operating as a community service with the intent to do only good and no harm. Your signature on this agreement is your promise to have your dog protected from canine heartworm. In addition you promise to provide food, shelter, love, and all medical attention your pet requires. In the event that you are unable to keep your dog, you are required to inform 4DogSakes Rescue as soon as possible and to keep the animal until we can find a suitable home or return the animal to us. When you adopt a dog from 4DogSakes Rescue, you will have a microchip id tag. The tag is registered to this organization. You are strongly urged to have your own id tag made immediately with the dogs' name and your phone number. If the animal is picked up and traced to our organization because your tags are not on it, you may not get your pet back. We accept very few excuses for "loose" animals.
